

peopleologie

21st CENTURY LEARNING SKILLS

- The program provides a way to explore and engage in activity-based approaches to all academic subjects, with a focus on history, science, literacy, and project based learning.
- Integrating hands-on making across the curriculum engages diverse learners in academic subjects, igniting curiosity, wonder, imagination, and meaning making
- The new common core standards can be successfully implemented through culturally responsive arts-centered teaching strategies applied across all disciplines.

From the Integrated Learning Specialist Program, Alameda County of Education